The Repechage Story

start with Lydia Sarfati

Since 1980, Repêchage has been passionate about helping clients achieve beautiful, healthy, skin, hair and body at the finest spas and salons around the world.

We at Repechage are committed to providing the best, most effective products and treatments made with love and passion. We are a family company and provide our employees with care, love and respect. We value our partners and the professional community and are committed to raising the bar on education and innovation and great consumer experiences.

Pioneers in seaweed based products and treatments in the US, Repêchage continues to develop collections to benefit a variety of skin conditions and concerns. Freshly harvested seaweeds that are processed utilizing our proprietary method to maintain all the rich vitamins, minerals, trace elements and amino acids are the hallmark of our formulations. Our luxurious collection will rejuvenate, nourish, hydrate, rebalance and purify.

We are proud to manufacture these outstanding products in the United States. As a result, we exceed quality control standards which allows us to consistently deliver exceptional products.
